

GARRETT LEE GRAHAM ANDERSON

FULL-STACK DEVELOPER

INTRODUCTION

A humanitarian with a zest for life, I believe that knowledge is power, to not only advance oneself personally but to, by extension, advance others as well. The beauty in technology is the ease with which information may be disseminated. That is where I come in. I have always been a connector of people and ideas, bridging gaps is my game. Currently seeking opportunities to grow with an organization and increase my talents. I believe in the value of clean code and the efficacy of a cohesive team.

Positive and motivated, I'm a self-starter with interpersonal and technical skills who demonstrates the ability to interact with all levels within an organization demonstrating skills in critical thinking and analysis, research and solution development.
