Technical Education

Suncoast Developers Guild, St. Petersburg, FL, completion 7-19-2019- An immersive web development bootcamp. I'll complete the program as a Full Stack Developer with emphasis on front end. Proficiencies include HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, C# and .NET

Project Highlights-

Hyppo GIP- An app in progress that tracks the types of popsicles that have been consumed from The Hyppo and awards badges for milestones. I am currently building an API with endpoints to GET the flavors, POST those tried, and GET the badges earned. I've built my wireframes in HTML and CSS and I'll be using React to build the front end functionality.

Minesweeper Game- Utilized API endpoints to GET and POST data essential for game operation. I chose a design of Plants vs Weeds rather than the traditional styling for a fresh look. Flags were sunflowers which turned into bees when correctly placed. The bombs were villainous dandelions.

Crypto Currency Tracker- The objective was to gather crypto-currency data from an API. I designed this program with vision impaired users in mind by keeping the style minimal. Additionally, to ensure accuracy, the data is updated every ten seconds.

SpaceX Launch Data Site- My goal was to replicate a provided site as close as possible. Using an API, I displayed NASA's Picture of the Day with credit and title details. I also provided upcoming SpaceX launch information such as ship name, operation specifics, launch date and site.
